

Family violence support service

Merri Health
Healthcare that moves with you

Supporting young people and their families through the Melbourne Children's Court, where some people are using violence and others have been hurt.

We do this by:

- > Helping you to stay safe at court and at home
- > Talking you through court procedures and why you're here
- > Linking you with services
- > Helping you talk with the police or your lawyer
- > Checking in with you after court to see if you're OK.

Talk to us

If you want to know more or need support, let someone at the Registry Office know. You can also visit our team at the Melbourne Children's Court.

